

Participation by all seen as key to meeting United Fund needs

Increased participation in the local United Fund was urged in a talk Thursday afternoon by the new UF executive director, S. T. "Pete" Nasir.

Addressing Granite City Optimists at a luncheon at the YMCA, Nasir noted that "many individuals do not contribute, many of them are in responsible positions."

"Many accounts have not changed the amount of their gifts for the past five or six years—and were low to start with."

"The suggested Fair Share standard appears to be insufficient."

"Many accounts—individuals, groups and businesses—were not contacted properly and some were not contacted at all," he related.

"Industrial plants, both corporate and employee giving, are at levels inconsistent with national averages. Out-of-town corporations doing business in this area, in many instances, do not contribute or make small gifts."

Continuing to analyze the lack of over-the-top UF financial campaigns here since the mid-1960s, Nasir told the club, "Obviously, the loss of a couple of large companies in the area is bound to affect the campaign."

The speaker, introduced by Henry D. Karameloff, cited a need for more "community volunteers to conduct a vigorous and precise campaign," plus increased information to the public on services available to them from UF-member agencies.

"Last year alone, agency allocations were cut by 20%, forcing many of the agencies to curtail their services and, in some cases, eliminate them," Nasir pointed out.

"I've been in town for two and a half months and should not pretend to know all the answers. But some observations are possible, based on detailed study of campaign records for the past two years."

"The question is whether the services in our community are important to us. Are the services that were important ten years ago still important now? What about the coming five to ten years?"

"To raise money, you have to have a good purpose and a good organization."

"A community has to be convinced it will be better off with a service than without it."

"Look at yourselves as buyers of services. You certainly should know what your dollar is buying."

"Not until you are convinced that your community and yourself are better off with these services are you going to go out and raise the money needed to support these services."

He called for planning of community services on an on-going basis, including a look into the future, and steps to avoid duplication.

"We owe it to both the contributor and the recipient of our services to have such a planning committee," Nasir commented.

"We have to use the dollar we raise wisely and efficiently. We have to provide good and visible services with a minimum of expenses."

He told the Optimists, "This is a good community. But we do need more involvement of citizens, and we need more leadership."

"Many agency boards are made up of the same volunteers who serve on four or five other boards. This is all right to a certain degree, but we need more involvement from other people. We need the commitment of the total community and its leadership."

"My number one priority is to help raise enough money for our agencies so they may continue to serve our community. To do this, I need your help."

"Your support of your United Fund—and I am not just talking about monetary support—is essential to our success."

"And your active involvement on agency boards, committees and fund-raising activities will certainly lend a hand to the total progress of our area."

Property tax rates total $5.00 to $6.42 for '73 bills

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Quad-City area taxpayers — except those living in the city of Venice — will pay higher tax bills this year under new tax rates announced Friday by County Clerk Eulalia Hotz.

Combined rates of governmental areas in the four Quad-City townships show increases for the 1972 tax year ranging from 6.1 cents per $100 assessed valuation for taxpayers living in the city of Madison to 36.4 cents for taxpayers in the village of Pontoon Beach.

Venice taxpayers will pay 6.9 cents per $100 valuation less than they did a year ago, due to a combination of rate decreases by four of the seven taxing agencies for which property owners pay taxes in Venice.

In Granite City, taxpayers will pay bills on the basis of a combined rate of $6.42 per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 20.1 cents over the overall rate of $6.22 extended a year ago for the six tax bodies in Granite City Township.

The largest rate increase will hit property owners of Pontoon Beach where the combined rate payable this year is $6.89, up from last year's $5.326 due primarily to boosts in rates for school and township purposes. Pontoon Beach has no rate for village taxes.

Nameoki township taxpayers outside of Pontoon Beach will pay in most instances on a combined rate of $5.45, a rise of 31.4 cents from last year's overall rate of $5.131. Rates in the unincorporated areas vary for some property owners who may live in additional tax districts such as the State Park Place street lighting district, the Miracle Manor - Bellemore street lighting district, or different fire districts.

Chouteau Township taxpayers will pay tax bills this summer on a combined rate of $5.474 per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 33.3 cents over last year's overall rate of $5.141 for six taxing districts.

Madison taxpayers will experience the smallest increase in paying on a combined rate of $5.38, which is up 6.1 cents from the total rate of $5.319 extended a year ago.

The new combined rate for taxpayers living in the city of Venice is $5.409 per $100 assessed valuation, a drop of 6.9 cents from the 1971 rate of $5.478 on which tax bills were based last year.

The rate increase in Granite City resulted from a 28-cent rise for the new rate of $3.991 set for Granite City School District 9, and a rate for the Park District of 28.4 cents, up 2.3 cents from last year's rate of 26.1 cents.

This total rate boost of 30.3 cents partially was offset by decreases in the tax rates for the four other taxing bodies for which taxes are collected in Granite City.

These included a drop of 7.1 cents in the city corporate rate, set at $1.142 per $100 assessed valuation compared to $1.213 last year; a drop of 1.9 cents in the rate of 41.7 cents set for the East Side Levee and Sanitary District (43.6 cents last year); a drop of 3 of one cent in the township rate, set at 17.9 cents, and a decline of 7 of one cent in the county rate, set at 43.1 cents.

The higher school district rate in Granite City Township followed one of the biggest drops in property valuations in many years. The assessed valuation for School District 9, which includes all of Granite City Township and portions of Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice Townships, was set at $216,430,372, down $10,880,231 from last year's assessment of $227,010,603.

Virtually all of the school district's loss in property valuation occurred in Granite City. Township whose assessment was set at $106,876,592, a decrease of $10,106,122 below last year's valuation totaling $176,982,714.

The Granite City school rate also was responsible for a major part of rate increases in all of the other governmental areas since district 9 encompasses portions of all four Quad-City Townships.

The new combined rate in Nameoki Township, increased 25.8 cents over that of last year, also included a 12.1-cent jump in the rate for town purposes. The township rate is 23.8 cents in Nameoki Township, up from 20.7 cents last year.

Pontoon Beach also received a rate increase of 5 cents in the new rate of 24.5 cents for the Long Lake Fire Protection District. The Chouteau Township rate for town purposes also increased 6.2 cents per $100 valuation to 31.3 cents, compared to 25.1 cents last year, and the road and bridge fund rate increased 1.7 cents to a new rate of 19.7 cents.

In the city of Madison, the city tax rate corporate rate was set at $1.585 per $100 valuation, up from $1.517, while the rate for Madison School District 12 was fixed at $2.94, up from $2.83.

The city rate in Venice was set at $1.217, up from $1.217, and the rate for Venice School District 3 was fixed at $2.86, down from $2.855. The Venice rate was set at $2.824, up from $2.83.

The city rate in Venice was set at $1.217, up from $1.217, and the rate for Venice School District 3 was fixed at $2.86, down from $2.855. The Venice rate was set at $2.824, up from $2.83.

River road rail overpass given top state priority

A $10.5 million highway fund released by administrative action of Gov. Dan Walker will provide $5.1 million for highway improvements in Madison County, including construction of an overpass structure over Chicago Avenue and the railroad tracks leading to the Granite City Army Installation, State Senator Sam Vadala (D-Edwardsville), announced Friday.

The overpass structure will speed up completion of Federal Route 151 (The Great River Road) from Granite City to Venice which was delayed by the freeze on highway funds early four years ago. It is one of four projects for which Madison County's $5.1 million share of the highway fund has been earmarked, Sen. Vadala said.

The other $3.4 million of the highway fund has been earmarked for three projects in St. Clair County, the senator said.

In announcing designation of the monies, Sen. Vadala said, "After years of terrible setbacks on the calendar, District 8 will lead forward at least a year. The $10.5 million dollars we have been seeking since the highway freeze went into effect has now been allocated to specific projects."

"It's been a long, tough battle since I first sought to have bond issue funds allocated for District 8. But with the fine cooperation of Governor Walker and his administration, we were able to move this proposal to the action stage much more quickly."

"Both of us made strong campaign commitments to get these road funds; today, with the release of the highway fund, we are delivering on those promises."

"Let me give an instance of how long one of our communities has been waiting. At the dedication of the bi-state terminal and the Granite City Steel dock facilities in 1959, Governor Stratton promised that Route 151 would be completed within a short period of time. The Quad-City area has been trying to get this highway completed ever since."

"Construction of this highway to the McKinley Bridge will provide a more direct route to downtown St. Louis, particularly for the citizens of northern Madison County. In addition, this roadway will give the Tri-City Regional Port District a firm connection with the heart of the St. Louis Metropolitan Region and complete the Port's access to all major interstate highway systems in the area."

"The $10.5 million fund freeze released by Governor Walker will be a major blessing to District 8. It will allow projects scheduled for the years 1974, 75 and 76 to be placed up for letting at least one year sooner. Funds have been divided evenly between Madison and St. Clair County based on projects that can be placed up for letting before the end of this year."

The four projects selected in Madison County are: (1) On Illinois 140 the widening to four lane structure over the west fork of Wood River Creek at an estimated cost of $510,000; (2) On Illinois 140 the widening to four lane structure over the CB&Q Railroad at an estimated cost of $940,000; (3) The widening from two to four lanes on Illinois 140 between Fosterburg Road to GM&O Railroad subway in Alton and a widening and reconstruction of structure over Chicago Avenue and railroad tracks leading to Granite City Army Installation on relocated Illinois 3 or Federal Aid 151 in Granite City at a cost of $1,850,000. Total estimated cost for Madison County projects equals $5,100,000.

"I would not like to leave the impression that all this was accomplished without enormous help from concerned citizens. In particular, I would like to acknowledge the important efforts of the Chambers of Commerce of Greater Alton, Wood River Township, and Granite City."

"They have made singular contributions to the health and growth of the areas they represent."

Five are injured in Route 203 accident

Five people were injured in a two-car collision on Route 203 at Harrison Street near the foot of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct in Madison at 3:20 p.m. Friday.

State police said the accident involved a 1968 Ford driven by Alroy Gracey, 41, of 14B Eastgate Drive, Pontoon Beach, southbound on Route 203, and a 1968 Ford driven by David Curtis, 69, of 212 Harrison St., Eagle Park Acres, who was headed east on Harrison.

All levee factions seek court boundary verdict

Trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District of Madison and St. Clair Counties voted in a special meeting in Granite City yesterday afternoon to appoint William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, Madison County trustee, as flood disaster agent for the district and agreed to cooperate in a move to obtain an early Supreme Court ruling on litigation over a law that would split the district along county lines.

The meeting was attended by Romel Wilbon, president of the levee district board, and Jack Scoville, both of East St. Louis, and Ebersold and Russell Robinson of Granite City, the first joint session since Dec. 22 when the legislation splitting the district was signed into law.

The trustees agreed to ask the Supreme Court Thursday for an early ruling on the constitutionality of the law.

Sunday's meeting was the first session attended by both St. Clair and Madison County levee trustees since former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie signed legislation last Dec. 22 permitting a split of the district along county lines.

Ebersold and Russell Robinson of Granite City, Madison County trustees, have boycotted levee board meetings in East St. Louis on grounds that the new state law divided the district and that they no longer were a part of operations in St. Clair County.

Arrangements for the special levee board meeting were made in discussions Friday between Ebersold and Robinson, two of the St. Clair County trustees, Jack Scoville and Charles Meyers and William Starnes, attorney for the levee district.

They said Romel Wilbon, board president who recently split with Meyers and Scoville over operating procedures and spending practices in St. Clair County, could not be located to invite him to the Friday discussion.

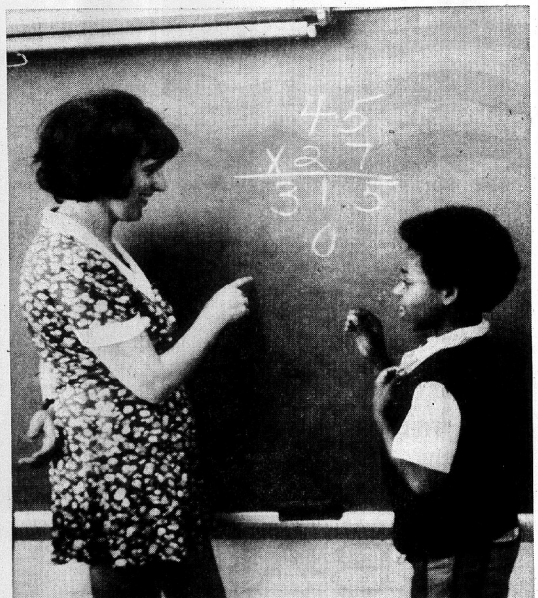

Ebersold said he and Robinson agreed to meet with Meyers and Scoville because of the district's critical financial condition which already has resulted in one payless payday for levee district workers. The district is without funds and is unable to sell $400,000 in anticipation warrants because of litigation, now in the Illinois Supreme Court, questioning the constitutionality of the law splitting the district.

Ebersold noted that he and Robinson considered vital the appointment of a flood disaster agent to represent the levee district in applying for federal grants available for repair of district sewers and other facilities which were damaged by recent flood waters.

All tax bodies must appoint an agent to represent them before they are eligible for disaster aid funds.

Regardless of how the Supreme Court rules, the district cannot lose its eligibility for flood relief, which could amount

Assumption, St. Teresa high schools to merge in '74-75

Serious planning has begun to establish a single diocesan secondary school in East St. Louis beginning in September 1974, to replace the two schools presently serving high school students of the region, St. Teresa Academy and Assumption High School.

This statement was made jointly by Bishop Albert Zuroweste and representatives of the provincial administrations of the two Catholic religious communities involved, the Adorers of the Blood of Christ and the Brothers of Mary.

The difficulty of financing two schools and the pattern of decreasing enrollments in both schools were key factors in arriving at the decision in favor of consolidation, a spokesman said.

The new co-educational school will be located at Kingshighway and St. Clair Ave., the present site of Assumption High School.

Sister Irene McGrath, provincial superior of the Adorers of the Blood of Christ, said the decision to discontinue St. Teresa Academy as an all-girl school, effective for the 1974-75 school term, was made by the St. Teresa Academy Corporation at a meeting at the provincial house in Ruma, Illinois. She stressed that this decision does not imply that the Adorers of the Blood of Christ are terminating their services to the region. While continuing to serve in the area of secondary education in the new school, the Sisters also hope to continue their service in other ways at the 25th and Ridge site.

The diocese and the two religious communities will continue designing major aspects of their cooperation in this new venture. They will set up a steering committee from the two schools to develop the philosophy, objectives and organizational structure of the proposed school.

Pontoon abolishes police unit pending new laws

The Pontoon Beach village board, meeting in special sessions Saturday and Sunday, voted to abolish its present nine-man police department and repealed all previous ordinances pertaining to police protection in the village.

The action was taken after it came the board's attention that the village has no existing laws creating a fulltime, paid police department, according to Board President Floyd David Moss.

Action to abolish the department and call for volunteers to serve during an interim period in which a new law creating a village police department will be passed was taken in a special meeting Saturday afternoon.

Moss and John Cole, chairman of the police committee, said the action had nothing to do with a reported move by the nine members of the police department to join Operating Engineers Union local 520. The village's first fulltime, paid police department was created a month ago.

Moss said that all nine members of the department volunteered to serve as village police.

The program is being offered only to students living in Community Unit School District No. 9. Courses will be given in any subject if there are enough applicants to create a class.

"Because of the large enrollment in typing for the fall, it will be necessary to drop many sophomores."

"Those who are business education majors also may take summer typing if they wish."

"Students interested in driver training (classroom or behind-the-wheel) should report to the gymnasium at 1 p.m. June 4. For the behind-the-wheel training, the individual must be 16 by the end of the summer term and have passed the related classroom work."

"Non-students aged 16-21 who have passed the driver class also may apply, or they may enroll for the classroom training."

The GCIS bookstore will be open from 7:45 to 8 each morning, with the first class starting at 8 a.m.

Revised attendance rules will be as follows:

In summer school on or before Thursday of the first week in order to attend class for the minimum number of hours required by the North Central Association, the accrediting body.

4. All days prior to a student's enrollment will be counted as absences.

5. More than three absences from a class will result in an automatic drop from that class. The student's transcript will then show "Dropped F," unless the student's parent or guardian notifies the school of illness, death in family or special problem, in which case the student will be dropped with no "F" penalty.

6. A student may receive a "withdrawal" from a course, with no penalty other than forfeiting his $3 registration fee, through Friday of the first week. The student may not, however, enroll in another class except in case of error.

7. Tardies of one to 30 minutes must be made up at 12:05 that day. Tardies of over 30 minutes would count as one absence in that class.

'Bridesmaid' Janssen takes 40-lap feature

"Many times a bridesmaid, but never a bride" until Friday night, Louie Janssen of Bethalto found the elusive combination to capture the 40-lap late model auto racing feature at Tri-City Speedway.

Janssen piloted his '70 Mustang around the half-mile dirt oval in 27.36 seconds to place third in the time trials; 27.08 seconds was the fastest qualifying time of the evening, set by C. C. Corbin of East Alton. Janssen in the first heat appeared doomed due to mechanical troubles. Running third behind Len Gittmeier of St. Louis, and the eventual winner Corbin, Janssen was forced into the pits with overheating problems.

But when the lineup for the six-lap handicap race was called, Janssen was ready. Charging into second place behind Gittmeier, the leader on a first lap that saw Corbin knocked out to an accident, Janssen stayed close and finished third behind Gittmeier and Bill Faust of Lebanon.

In between the events and the feature race, Clyde Lindemann of St. Louis drove a Chevelle to victory in the second heat, with Faust and Bill Myers finishing second and third.

Pat King of St. Charles led the third heat event from start to finish, with Joe Northrup of Jacksonville second and John Hindrichs of Imperial, Mo., third.

In the 15-lap semi-feature, Janssen stayed close and finished third behind Gittmeier and Bill Faust of Lebanon.

Allen, Mason double winners in track meet

Mike Allen and Carl Mason were double winners as Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville defeated Principia College 84-42 in a dual track meet Saturday at Roxana High School.

Allen took the 120-yard hurdles in 1:16.4 and the 440-yard intermediate hurdles in 1:53.5, while Mason won the half mile in 1:58.3 and the mile in 4:27.4. He also anchored the winning mile relay team.

Other SIUE winners were Joe Pasche, the 400-yard run in 5:23; Robert Ottersburg, the shot put at 41-0; Kevin Dooley, the high jump at 6-2;

Johnny Prior of Centuria, set the pace throughout, followed by King and Tom Hannick of Valley Park, Mo.

Roger Ferguson of Ballwin, Mo., was victorious over second-place finisher John Glover in the 15-lap hobby car feature. Glover earlier captured the ten-lap heat event for the hobby class.

Sixteen drivers and machines lined up for the late model feature, with Janssen and defending track champion Wb Spalding of Pontoon Beach in the pole positions. Spalding hoped to make it two wins in as many weeks.

Spalding led into the first turn, with Janssen a close second. Three laps later, Janssen — driving the smoothest race of his career — whizzed by to take over the lead.

Spalding dropped out of the race one lap later due to a burnt valve in his car's engine. Janssen was never seriously challenged. Gittmeier was second and Bill Faust third.

Gittmeier holds a 15-point lead over Spalding's 585 in the point standings. Johnny Prior is third with 540.

MHS sports banquet set for Wednesday

Madison High School will hold an "All Sports Banquet" at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the cafeteria honoring the Trojan letterman.

Each coach will introduce his players, and letters for cross country, baseball, football, track and basketball will be awarded.

Joe May, a sports announcer from Belleville, will be master of ceremonies.

John Schuster, the long jump at 21-7½; Ted Greenfield, Ken Eliff, Pasche and Mason, the mile relay in 3:29.3; and John Schmitz, John Bolinestich, Schuster and George Tyus, the 400-yard relay in 1:44.6.

Kratz breaks district vault record; GC trackmen 3rd

Granite City High School will be well represented in Illinois state track and field competition Friday and Saturday in Champaign but failed in its spirited effort to capture the district championship Friday evening at Highland.

Scoring 33 points, the Warriors placed third. Alton won with 42 points, edging East St. Louis Lincoln, which scored 40.

Madison High School did not score. East St. Louis garnered 28 points, Belleville East and Lebanon 14 each, Mascoutah 13, Mount Olive 12, Belleville West 11, Altoft of Belleville 8, Edwardsville 7, O'Fallon 6, Wood River 4, St. Paul of Highland 3 and Breese Mater Dei, Cahokia and Highland, 2 each.

A fourth place was earned by Brad Weiss in the discus, 145-3.

Cougars down Austin Peay in 3 of 4 in NCAA warmup

Coach Roy E. Lee's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team wound up its regular scheduled season Saturday by splitting a pair with Austin Peay State University of Tennessee, winning the nine-inning opener, 8-3, and dropping the finale, 5-0.

It gave the Cougars three-out-of-four victories over the Clarksville, Tenn., team during the weekend and ran SIUE's record to 25-6. The Governors, who were in the top 10 of the NCAA university division last year, dropped to 22-24. The current Cougars are ranked No. 2 in the NCAA college division poll.

Both games Saturday were not really "for blood" as far as Lee was concerned. "I wanted to give all the fellows who have worked so hard during the season an opportunity to play and, too, to see what they could do under pressure," the veteran Lee explained.

He found out, too, with the performance of freshman hurler, Greg Volk, and sophomore Steve Earnhart. Earnhart started and went five frames to pick up his first collegiate victory, giving up one run (unearned), two hits and fanning three. Volk, a towering (6-6) right-hander from Crystal City, Mo., went three frames and allowed one run but looked very promising.

"The Cougars' veteran reliever, Sam Stewart, came on and fanned two and made the other roll out. Lee wanted him to use his arm for the tournament coming up."

In Earnhart's victory he got some tremendous hitting support from the Cougars' Jerry Pilcher, who blasted two doubles and a triple in three trips and drove in three runs. Pilcher is just now regaining his .382 form of the 1971 season. He was redshirted last season due to an injury.

The Cougars will be back at full strength by Thursday when they'll host the Midwest regional tourney of the NCAA college division. Their infield, with the return of Tom Twelthman at second after his successful chest operation Tuesday, will shore up their defense.

First round action Thursday at 10 a.m.—Marietta College of Ohio vs. North Central College of Naperville, Ill.; at 1 p.m.—Indiana Central University of Indianapolis vs. Eastern Illinois at 4 p.m.—Cleveland State University vs. Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. SIUE is the Midwest defending champ.

The tourney, a double elimination affair, continues through Sunday, if needed.

East 6-7 center to join cage Cougars

Roy Rickenberg, a rugged six-foot, nine-inch cager from Steeleville, Ill., has signed a letter of intent to enroll this fall at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Jim Dudley, varsity basketball coach, has announced. Rickenberg, who is transferring from Rend Lake Junior College, also attended Southwest Baptist College in Bolivar, Mo., briefly.

In high school and college he averaged 14 points per game and pulled down 13 rebounds per contest. Says Dudley: "Rickenberg will be a low post candidate. His size should make considerable difference to our team defensively."

"He's a good jumper and an above average shot blocker. This means he'll be able to help us off the boards and make our fast break more effective. For a big man, he gets up and down the floor extremely well."

Following Friday's discussions, Starnes, with the approval of the two Madison County trustees and the two trustees of St. Clair County issued this statement:

"There have been some significant developments today with regard to problems that have beset the Levee Board and its litigation.

"There has been a meeting today (Friday) between the trustees of the Levee District elected from both counties, William Ebersold and Russell Robinson have not been attending meetings in this county because of the pendency of litigation involving a bill which purportedly split the East Side Levee into two districts.

"They have agreed to have a special meeting to consider the appointment of an agent to make application for and to receive federal flood relief money that might be forthcoming.

"Apparently we are talking about money in excess of $1,000,000. Previously there was an effort to appoint Jack Scoville to this position but the president, Wilborn, vetoed that appointment and attempted to appoint the acting engineer for the Levee District, James Spanos. That appointment was not ratified by other members of the board.

"So, in effect, there has been no valid appointment until this time. Unless there is cooperation tion on the part of the trustees then there would be no practical way to make application for the money. This is the reason Mr. Ebersold and Mr. Robinson have come forward and agreed to meet to make this appointment.

"The president is out of town we have not been able to reach him. We have placed a call to his attorney to advise him of the meeting and plan to cooperate with the president in every way possible.

"A further development is that the trustees from Madison County have been in communication with their attorney, Horace Calvo, and I, of course, have been in conference with Mr. Meyers and Mr. Scoville and the 4 trustees have indicated to the attorneys that we should do everything possible to expedite a hearing in the Supreme Court on a collateral issue, that is, whether or not the Circuit Court of Madison County had jurisdiction to enter an order restricting the spending powers of the old district, and it appears now that we will reach an agreement to waive a hearing on that particular matter and proceed as soon as possible on a hearing on the merits.

"We may ask the court for

permission to argue the case in chief on Thursday, rather than the collateral issue. The trustees have reached that agreement and have instructed the attorneys to do whatever they can to bring about an immediate hearing on the merits, which could be as soon as Thursday.

"It is entirely possible that within the next two or three weeks the legal involvements as to the validity of the legislation will be determined and it will be either one district if the Supreme Court ruling upholds the Circuit Court ruling, and if the Supreme Court overrules the Circuit Court ruling, there will be two districts.

"The practical effect is that if the Supreme Court enters an order, then the financial worth of the district can be solved because tax anticipated warrants will then be immediately salable."

Judge James O. Monroe Jr. had not yet ruled at noon today on a three-way case in which one parent group sued the Madison school district and another intervened. Testimony and arguments in the week-long hearing ended Friday.

Those filing the suit seek either school zone boundary changes or busing to achieve racial balance at all grade schools. The district and other parents testified in favor of pupils attending classes in their home neighborhood if they choose, rather than being transported.

At the request of the district, George Putnam of the Illinois Institute of Technology presented computer plans calling for "mini-neighborhood" assignments.

Melvin Gillie conducted installation ceremonies for the newly elected officers of the Granite City Kiwanis Breakfast Club at a meeting Thursday at Grant City Restaurant.

Charter officers who were installed to serve for the fourth coming year are Ray Grisham, president; Norman Kinder, first vice-president; Herbert Camren, second vice-president; Mark Yehling, treasurer, and Jack Mulach, secretary.

After the ceremony, Gillie gave a brief resume on why the Kiwanis Clubs were organized, where they started and how they have grown to the present members. He announced the 1973 theme is "Share Your what the club means in real life."

The president spoke to the officers and urged them to work towards the responsibility of their individual offices. He also challenged each of the members to bring a new member and at the next meeting present projects for the club to sponsor during the year.

Three new members, Ronald Coleman, Donald Moser and Jack Darlington, were welcomed and introduced by the president.

One of the first projects in which the new club will participate is the annual hot races, sponsored by the evening Kiwanis Club to be held on July 15 at Horseshoe Lake. All responsibility and proceeds of the event will be shared jointly by both organizations.

Plans were discussed to host a golf tournament at Arlington Heights Golf Club with Grisham and Kinder serving as co-chairmen. The date of the project will be announced later.

Madison board reviews school roofing needs

Deteriorating roofs on two Madison schools and on the district's administration building were discussed last week by the Madison Board of Education. Repair or replacement costs are to be determined.

Superintendent Fred Riddle told the board that the roof on Harris School is developing leaks and recommended that a program be started to replace it section by section over a period of several years.

He also said some of the gutting at the school is "worthless and cannot be repaired." Because the roof might require almost constant patching, he said, "it would be cheaper to install a new roof."

Riddle said the same kind of roof exists on the Blair School. "So you're going to be dealing with two roofs over the next five years or so."

Riddle said he has sent bid requests to five companies for repairs to the administration building roof, but none had been received as of the meeting night. He said the insurer of the building had paid for temporary patching but shingles have been blown off and need replacing.

Board member Harold T. Fisk asked if any of the roofs need immediate repairs and Riddle indicated the temporary patching is sufficient for a short period in most locations.

Riddle said he obtained an estimate of $765 for Class B five doors for the Madison Junior High School and will seek more quotations.

Eldon Rhoads, maintenance supervisor for the district, is seeking prices on janitorial supplies needed for the summer. Riddle said, "The board agreed to hold a special meeting when prices have been received, in order to award contracts prior to the start of the summer vacation period."

Public attitudes depend on government workers

Public attitudes toward government are conditioned by attitudes of government employees who meet the public, Michael J. Howlett, Secretary of State, told a group of state employees Thursday.

Howlett spoke at the 27th annual convention of the Illinois Unemployment Compensation Adjudicators Association at Oak Brook.

"You and I have things in common," Howlett told them. "We work for the same employer—the Illinois state government. And we meet the public in large numbers in our daily work."

"Thousands of Illinoisans will judge my whole administration by the reception they receive from a clerk and a driver's license examiner when they go in for the license test."

"The high cost of meat, the threat of gas rationing and other issues are leading many taxpayers to question the value of government."

"But those issues are remote in the mind of the man you see every day."

"If he is having trouble picking up his unemployment compensation, everything else is irrelevant. He may not say so, but he is failing to think his government is failing him."

"He is a man out of a job facing an unemployment compensation auditor who is working, drawing a paycheck, secure in his rights to a vacation."

tion, sick leave and all the benefits of state employment. "The problem of unemployment is not as serious in Illinois as in most of the big industrial states, or as in the nation as a whole. But it is serious."

"Last month there were 153,000 unemployed men and women in Illinois. Not as bad as the 233,000 of a year ago, but bad enough."

"Any week, there can be 80,000 or more jobless workers reported to the unemployment compensation offices throughout the state."

"The unemployed are a huge army, including veterans returning from Vietnam and young people pouring out of college as well as workers released from suffering businesses."

"Since the adjudicator handles only the contested claims, the man who meets him more often is entitled to compensation and may not receive it."

"More than 100,000 claims were disallowed last year of about 260,000 adjudicated. If a claim is disallowed, the claimant is entitled to know the reason why."

"Courtesy is an absolute necessity in public service. You and I represent the state to the people we meet."

"The high cost of meat, the threat of gas rationing and other issues are leading many taxpayers to question the value of government."

"But those issues are remote in the mind of the man you see every day."

"If he is having trouble picking up his unemployment compensation, everything else is irrelevant. He may not say so, but he is failing to think his government is failing him."

"He is a man out of a job facing an unemployment compensation auditor who is working, drawing a paycheck, secure in his rights to a vacation."

Old rule of law 'buyer beware' now out of date

Caveat emptor? You might as well forget those words, according to the Illinois State Bar Association.

In fact, in case you have already forgotten that old Roman maxim, it means "let the buyer beware."

Historically, it was the rule of law governing transactions between a seller and buyer—at least as far as the buyer's satisfaction with his purchase was concerned.

Now, that is changing—fast. There are already laws on the books that protect consumers from being over-sold and under-informed about the purchase of real estate, automobiles, drugs, foods, automobiles, tobacco, and other products are regulated for health and safety reasons.

And, at least in Illinois, the consumer is entitled to a refund or a door-to-door salesman has the right to change his mind and get his money back if he does so within three business days.

"The old rule of 'caveat emptor' is out of date," says the Illinois State Bar Association. "The new rule is 'buyer beware'."

There are many other examples of what is happening to the ancient "caveat emptor" concept.

But the latest, and perhaps the most significant, the ISBA says, is the new Consumer Product Safety Act.

The Act was signed into law by the President last Oct. 27. Some portions of it already are in effect and others will become effective as soon as at least three members of the new Consumer Product Safety Commission, which will administer the law, take office.

The commission is given sweeping powers to regulate any consumer product not already subject to federal control and supervision for safety which will come under its authority. It is charged generally with enforcement of provisions of the Act and will assume enforcement powers for some other laws, including the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, Hazardous Substances Act (which includes toy safety provisions), Poison Prevention Packaging Act and Refrigerator Safety Act.

The commission, in cooperation with industry, consumer groups and private standard-setting organizations, will set up standards for product safety, publish these standards and require conformance to them.

A knowing failure to comply with established standards can draw stiff penalties including a $50,000 fine for knowing and willful non-compliance after notice and perhaps even one-year prison terms for officials of the offending concern.

The commission also can assess fines of $2,000 per violation for any related series of violations up to a maximum of $50,000.

If a product falls short of the safety standards, the manufacturer, distributor and retailer can be required to take one of three steps:

(1) Bring the product into compliance with the applicable standards.

(2) Replace it with a product that meets the standards.

(3) Return the purchase price.

If a product is unreasonably hazardous and not susceptible to any feasible safety standards, it can be banned outright from the market.

Imported products as well as domestic ones are affected and importers are subject to the same penalties for infractions. All consumer products, mean-

Two here chosen for graduate fellowships

Recipients of 43 graduate fellowships for the 1973-74 school year have been announced at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The awards include 21 regular, 20 minority/disadvantaged, and two special summer fellowships, in 21 graduate programs.

Don Taphorn, a biology major from Belleville, and Steven Bower of East Alton whose specialty is earth sciences, have been selected for the special fellowships, which are being awarded for the first time this year.

Studying oceanography, they will receive $500 each to work along the Florida coast during the summer on a program offered through Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, O.

Among the 43 graduate fellowships are Mary L. Jaime, Granite City, physician, and Sharon L. Watson, Madison, special education.

Stipends for the minority/disadvantaged fellowships are $1,000 for the regular graduate fellowships and $2,250 per semester for the special fellowships.

academic year. Regular fellowships initially are appointed for three quarters, with a fourth quarter appointment subject to a recommendation for continuance by the student's graduate program director. The fellowships do not carry a work requirement, and there is a remission of tuition.

Most do not complete their graduate work in one year, and an objective of the program is for the students to be offered assistantships by individual departments for additional work on the basis of an evaluation of their first year's achievements.

During the fall quarter, the grade average for graduate fellows at SIUE was 4.86 on a 5.00 scale, and they carried an average of 12.7 hours. The grade average for the minority/disadvantaged group was 4.59, with an average load of 12 hours.

In the current year, SIUE has 30 graduate fellows, including 13 in the minority/disadvantaged category. The graduate fellowship program was started in 1968 with four recipients.

Some school bus drivers not qualified to drive

Copley News Service

Springfield — An intensive investigation of drivers' licenses by state school authorities has shown that a number of men and women daily transporting 1 million school children in 10,000 school buses are not even qualified to legally drive a car because of revocations of licenses.

Ten drivers already have been notified they are not qualified to continue to drive under the drivers' regulations currently in use by the office of the state superintendent of public instruction.

Additional reviews are scheduled in almost 800 other cases, for possible further action. Meanwhile State School Supt. Michael Bakalis, whose staff discovered the discrepancies in regulations recently, is drafting new, tighter rules and regulations which hopefully will be in effect before school opens next fall, to close long-standing loopholes which in some cases apparently kept drivers behind school bus wheels, even when they had to take a bus or walk to get to work themselves.

The existing vague regulations for school bus drivers were drawn a number of years ago and interpreted by Bakalis when he took over the office.

They spelled out quite specifically what a driver had to do to be certified as a school bus driver, but glossed over revocations of the certificates, once issued, with the note that "a driver, violating any law or regulation governing a motor vehicle, is subject to the cancellation of his school bus driver permit."

Presently, a driver applying for a school bus driver's permit had to have a valid driver's license, pass written and driving tests, had to have been driving an auto for three years, and could not have a record of conviction for reckless driving, could not have had his license revoked and could not have an unsatisfactory judgment at the result of an accident. He was also required to have a valid first aid certificate.

After Bakalis' staff uncovered the problem, a check of more than 16,000 school bus drivers' records was made by the OSPI staff and personnel of the driver's license division of the State of Illinois.

Of the 10 drivers already notified they cannot continue to drive, six had received mandatory revocation of license by the State of Illinois, and four had received discretionary revocations.

Frank Hartley, assistant manager of the driver's license division said that licenses must be revoked by the secretary of the State of Illinois if the driver is convicted of driving while intoxicated, reckless homicide involving death or serious injury, having three charges of reckless driving within 12 months, driving a motor vehicle on the highways, or a number of other offenses.

"Discretionary revocations" can be imposed at the judgment of the secretary of State for a list of 15 violations including any of the offenses for which revocation is mandatory on conviction at the state level, as well as having three moving traffic violations within 12 months, being repeatedly involved in collisions or violations of moving traffic laws, committing one of several offenses involving falsified licenses or applications, refusing to submit to an examination, or contributing to an accident that caused death and injury.

Still coming up for consideration are 544 cases involving bad driving records, and 251 cases classified as "wrong license classification" indicating they were somehow issued licenses in other than their proper classification.

Warning letters have been sent by the Secretary of State's office to 82 drivers who have had two or more moving violations in the past three years.

If adopted as they stand now, the new, tighter regulations will require applicants to have held a valid driver's license for at least three consecutive years just preceding application, and will deny a bus driver's license to anyone convicted of more than two offenses against traffic regulations in the preceding two years; to anyone with more than one chargeable accident within the immediate preceding two years.

To anyone "who in the opinion of the OSPI has not manifested good driving habits or whose conduct indicates a disregard for traffic laws and a disregard for the safety of others on the highways," as well as denying a permit to anyone whose record in the last three years shows a conviction for reckless driving, driving while intoxicated, or manslaughter or reckless homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle.

To cover any other loopholes, the amended regulations will also provide that the OSPI could cancel, suspend or revoke the permit of anyone whom the secretary of state has determined is no longer qualified to hold a driver's license in Illinois.

The regulations will continue to provide that school bus drivers must be selected for their dependability, good habits, unquestionable character and complete willingness to follow fully the instructions and requirements of the district superintendent and school board.

Drivers in addition must be clean and neat and cannot smoke or use alcoholic beverages or intoxicating liquors while transporting pupils.

Assistant State Supt. William Page said that while school bus drivers are actually hired and paid by local school districts, once certified by the state, the state superintendent's office can require compliance with the regulations by threatening to withhold funds from non-complying school districts.

Since the schools are required by law to furnish transportation (with some limited exceptions), and since the state pays about 85% of the districts' transportation costs, school districts which fail to comply would face serious economic problems, he said.

Five robberies occur in GC this weekend; manager shot

A drive-in manager was shot in one of five cases of robbery which occurred in Granite City during the weekend, according to reports to police.

Two armed men, one masked,
entered the Pizza Hut, 1333
Johnson Road, at 12:30 a.m.
Sunday, shot manager Pandey Dalney in the right hand and with an undetermined amount of money.

The man fled from the side door and the masked robber yelled, "Nobody move."

The other man stayed at the door
by the first man told Joe Pope, 16, an employee who was behind the counter, to get the money. When saw the manager he ordered Dalney to get all the money from the safe.

Dalney was putting the money in a white bag when he was told to hurry up. The robber fired a shot that struck the manager in the right hand.

The bullet went through the hand and hit the wall where fragments of the projectile remained.

Dalney told the girl to finish putting the money in the bag. The pair then left the way they entered.

The manager was taken to St.
Elizabeth's Hospital where he was treated and admitted.

One robber wore a dark brown ski mask with yellow fringe around his nose. He was 6 feet tall, slender and wore a white T-shirt and blue jeans.

He had a deep voice and was believed to be in his early 20s.

The second robber was described as good looking, wearing a red shirt and dark pants, with brown medium length hair and of medium build.

An interim committee and was revived next year.

Henry Sherwood Dixon, 78, Illinois lieutenant governor in the 1962 term of the late referee, he was a retired Illinois National Guard brigade general. The unsuccessful 1952 gubernatorial candidate is survived by his wife, ters.

Mid-America Theatres will open Nameoki Cinema July 6

A grand opening date of July 6 was announced Saturday by Mid-America Theatres of St. Louis for the new Nameoki Cinema 1 & 2. The twin theatre is nearing completion in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center on Nameoki Road.

The theatre, with 300 seats in each auditorium, has been designed and is being constructed by Martin Bloom Associates of St. Louis.

Jim Henderson, owner and developer of the shopping center, will own the building and lease it to Mid-America Theatres.

Extensive plans have been made for a second phase of construction in 1974, in which two additional auditoriums will be added to give patrons a choice of four different film programs.

The theatre is being equipped with the latest type of fully automated projection equipment supplied by Ballymore Equipment Co. of Omaha. The seating is being installed by American Seating Co.

The colorful theatre will have a new type of Highland red plaid Antron Nylon carpeting in the lobby, box office and both auditoriums.

One auditorium will have orange and brown sound-fold draperies and the other red, beige and brown draperies. The seats will be brown and black.

Another decorative feature of the new building will be large Philadelphia solid brass wall lanterns in the auditoriums and lobby. Wrought iron black lanterns will provide illumination on the exterior.

First-run film entertainment is to be provided at Nameoki Cinema 1 & 2.

Mid-America Theatres, which had headquarters in St. Louis County, is one of the nation's fastest-growing entertainment companies. With the opening of the Nameoki Cinema 1 & 2 and the forthcoming opening of a new twin drive-in theatre in Springfield, Ill., the company will have 34 theatres in operation, with a total of 45 screens.

Other Mid-America theatres operating in this region are the Bel Air Drive-In, Route 111 near Interstate 270; the Cameo Theatre, Alton; Capri Drive-In, Wood River; Falcon Drive-In, East St. Louis; and Shop City Drive-In.

The firm also operates theatres in other Illinois communities and in Missouri, Indiana and Kansas.
